

PHAR535 Poisonous Plants - JNQF Level: 7

First Semester 2024-2025

Course Catalog

3 Credit Hours. This course provides students with an opportunity to study several aspects related to many important poisonous, hallucinogenic, and narcotic plants. Topics include identifying poisonous plants, poisonous compounds, mechanisms of toxicity, clinical signs of poisoning, treatment, and prevention.

Teaching Method: On Campus

	Policy
Communicating with Instructors	 Students should communicate through their official JUST emails. Communication through personal email accounts (yahoo, Gmail, Hotmail, etc.) or social media will NOT be accepted, and no response will be provided. Students are required to check their emails and the E-learning page of the course regularly for announcements and notifications.
Exams	 All exams are closed books and notes. The final exam is comprehensive (covers all the material). The first, second, and midterm incomplete exams need approval from the departments? heads. The final incomplete exams need approval from the dean.
Cheating	Prohibited; The commitment of the acts of cheating and deceit such as copying during examinations, altering examinations for re-grade, plagiarism of homework assignments, and in any way representing the work of others as your own is dishonest and will not be tolerated. Standard JUST policy will be applied. Standard JUST policy will be applied. public distance of the system o
Attendance	Attendance is mandatory and will be recorded regularly. Excellent attendance is expected. Students who miss more than 20% of the classes will be dropped from the course as per JUST policy. If you miss class, it is your responsibility to find out about any announcements or assignments you may have missed.
Active learning and students participation	- Students are expected to actively participate in class discussions
Withdraw	Last day to drop the course is before the sixth (6th) week of the current semester.
Classroom Etiquette	 Respect Respect people, places, and things. Respect people, places, and things. Respect people, places, and things. Respect vector is a set of the provided of th

Type your email in the body of the email NOT in the subject line. - Provide a clear subject line. Keep it short and to the point, but not vague. Name, class, and what the email is specifically about should be in the subject line.
- Body of the email: Your emails should always start with a formal greeting like you would in a letter, be brief (one screen length), check your spelling/grammar/punctuation, use a professional font (not decorative), and include a salutation aligned with your message (Thank you or Sincerely).
- Avoid sending an email to your professor asking about grades or complaining about them. Schedule an appointment to meet in person to discuss areas for improvement if you have inquiries.
- Consider the impression your tone will make in the email. It is recommended waiting 24 hours before sending an email or responding to an email if you are emotionally charged.
- It is not appropriate to write in ALL CAPS. This conveys the impression that you are shouting at the recipient.
- Make sure you read and reread your email before sending it. Make sure your emails are grammatically correct, have proper titles, and are properly spelled. - If you have multiple questions or the message runs long, you might consider revising the message or scheduling a face-to-face meeting.
- You should double-check your ATTACHMENTS. Refer to your attachments within the body of your email. It is advisable to avoid attaching large files and to consider sending the document as a PDF.
- Please allow sufficient time for a response. The sender and receiver should both allow sufficient time. As a rule of thumb, 24 work hours should be given. If sending emails after official work hours or during formal vacations, a delay in response is expected. Following that, if no response is received, you can follow up.
