Policy
Exams	The format for exam includes multiple-choice, case scenarios, and short essay questions. Grades will not be given out via e-mail
Makeup Exams	Makeup exam should not be given unless there is a valid excuse. Arrangements to take an exam at a time different than the one scheduled MUST be made prior to the scheduled exam time.
Withdrawal	Withdrawal from the course must meet the university deadline as stated in the current student academic calendar.
Cheating	Prohibited. In case of cheating the student will be subject to punishment according to the standard regulations and protocols of JUST.
Attendance	1. Excellent attendance is expected. 2. JUST policy requires the faculty member to assign a ZERO grade (35%) if a student misses 20% of the classes. 3. If you miss class, it is your responsibility to find out about any announcements or assignments you may have missed.
Workload	Average work-load student should expect to spend is 6 - 12 hours/week
Communication with Instructors	1. Students should communicate through their official JUST emails only. Communication through personal email accounts (Yahoo, Gmail, Hotmail, etc.) or social media will NOT be accepted, and no response will be provided. 2. Students are required to check their JUST email accounts and the E-learning page of the course regularly for announcements and notifications.
Training Site Etiquette	1. Make sure you arrive to training site on time. 2. Respect people, places, and things. 3. Adhere to dress code and training instructions. 4. Food and drink are not permitted in training sites. 5. Do not engage in aside conversations. 6. Cell phones and electronic devices are not allowed during official training time, in medical rounds, discussions, and in the patient rooms.
Email Etiquette	1. Type your email into the body of the email NOT in the subject line. 2. Provide a clear subject line. Keep it short and to the point, but not vague. Name, class, and what the email is specifically about should be in the subject line. 3. Body of the email: Your emails should always start with a formal greeting like you would in a letter, be brief (one screen length), check your spelling/grammar/punctuation, use a professional font (not decorative), and include a salutation aligned with your message (Thank you or sincerely). 4. Avoid sending an email to your professor asking about grades or complaining about them. Schedule an appointment to meet in person to discuss areas for improvement if you have inquiries. 5. Consider the impression your tone will make in the email. It is recommended to wait 24 hours before sending an email or responding to an email if you are emotionally charged. 6. It is not appropriate to write in ALL CAPS. This conveys the impression that you are shouting at the recipient. 7. Make sure you read and reread your email before sending it. Make sure your emails are grammatically correct, have proper titles, and are properly spelled. 8. If you have multiple questions or the message runs long, you might consider revising the message or scheduling a face-to-face meeting. 9. You should double-check your ATTACHMENTS. Refer to your attachments within the body of your email. It is advisable to avoid attaching large files and to consider sending the document as a PDF. 10. Please allow sufficient time for a response. The sender and receiver should both allow sufficient time. As a rule of thumb, 24 work hours should be given. If sending emails after official work hours or during formal vacations, a delay in response is expected. Following that if no response is received, you can follow up.
